

Meet the Staff

DENICE COMSTOCK

Technology Projects and Websites Coordinator

Denice Comstock the web master for the Academic Development Institute (ADI), the partner organization of the Center on Innovations in Learning (CIL). For CIL, Denice manages and maintains the center's website and related databases, including CIL's continuously updated Resources for Leaders of Change database. For the past two years she has led the technology team in the scheduling, reviewing, and monitoring of technology projects through all phases of new development and improvements to Indistar, the online school improvement program. Denice is part of the Indistar support team and also provides client services for other ADI projects and programs, including the School Community Network.

Denice came to the Academic Development Institute in 2004 from the petroleum distribution industry, where she managed the proprietary credit systems and monthly billing processes while providing support services to her employer's commercial client base. At ADI, she was hired as the assistant to the director of operations; and, prior to ADI's emergence into the web-based arena, managed production, inventory, and distribution of ADI's early education, school improvement, and parent involvement program materials.

Denice Comstock

Denice is a newly-wed and lives with her husband, Dave, in Lincoln, Illinois. She has three children who have blessed her with five very handsome grandsons. Denice is active in her church, an avid knitter, and an accomplished seamstress who learned to sew when she was eight at her mother's knee.