

Meet the Staff

WILLIAM J. STULL

Scientific Consultant

William J. Stull is a professor and departmental chair in Temple University's Department of Economics, a position he has held since 1998. He is a former senior associate dean of the Temple University Fox School of Business. He received his Ph.D. in economics from MIT. He is the recipient of the Business Alumni Award for Outstanding Teaching and the Musser Award for Outstanding Service. His research areas are urban economics and the economics of education. He is the co-author of Work, Wages, and Poverty in the Philadelphia Metropolitan Area and Post-Industrial Philadelphia, and the co-editor of The School-to-Work Movement: Origins and Destinations, and has published articles in a wide range of economics and education journals. In recent years, he has served as an advisor to the Mayor of Philadelphia and the Philadelphia Tax Reform Commission.

William Stull